EDITOR'S RAMBLINGS

APRIL 2019

HERE we go again, another edition and now we're already in to the fourth month of the year, with lighter nights upon us and the sweet smell of Spring firmly in the air.

Isn't it great to hear of a new post office opening and actually in our own village? There is a full report of the handy new service and hopefully trips to Nettleham will become a thing of the past.

It's the month of the Spring Show when keen gardeners, bakers, crafters and junior designers display their talents in the Village Hall, in what is usually an array of colours, smells, ingenuity and no little skill. Hopefully there will be a shed load of entries.

We have a special wildlife report from Councillor Ian Russell, Terry Mayo reminisces about rollerskates and cycling, while we have an in-depth report of the latest meeting of the Ladies Club. There will be a railway club news next month. Maybe I don't know. Dom projects and initiatives that are ongoing.

► Garden waste collection commences on week beginning March 25. The price of £35 per bin has not been increased. The take up and success of the scheme has exceeded expectations. Residents can renew subscriptions on line.

► WLDC is still campaigning to save RAF Scampton. If it does close we are very keen that the district does not 'lose out' as with the closures of Hemswell and Binbrook. # PARISH COUNCIL REPORT

SUMMARY OF PARISH COUNCIL MEETING HELD ON MARCH 7, 2019

► Police: A report had been made to a Councillor of a prowler in a garden in Windsor Close during hours of darkness on March 6. This had later been reported to the Police but it was re-iterated that any incident should be reported at the time.

► Extension of Footpath Closure: Notification of the Footpath Closure of PROW 160 and 817 through Sudbrooke Park had been received from April 8 to October 7. It was noted that this did not tie in with the previous closure from February 8, 2018 to - February 2, 2019 and had been queried with LCC Highways.

LCC Highways had stated that the Temporary Closure Order had not been advertised correctly preventing an extension to the original Order, but that a temporary closure process was being prepared to prevent this happening in the future.

A safe alternative route was required to be provided from the date of the original application in August 2018 and should continue to be maintained by the applicant throughout the period of the closure.

They further stated that due to the nature of the works being carried out at this location it would not be possible to physically reopen the footpath and maintain safety at this time hence the original requirement for an extension to the Order. To remedy this a new Temporary Closure Order had been applied for and is due to commence on March 25, 2019.

► New Seats/benches: These are now on order and should be fitted shortly.

► Cutting back of verges: The Rapid Relief Team are undertaking further verge cutting in the village next few weeks.

► Play equipment repairs: The repairs to the play equipment is underway with the fitting of new log rolls to the climbing frame at the Village hall in the next few weeks.

SUDBROOKE GARDENING CLUB

WITH JOHN & IRIS WHITAKER - 751198 and CORAL EVANS - 750031

■ TOPSY-TURVY PLANTERS

► Our meeting was hosted by John and Iris and the evening began with our Chairlady, Coral, demonstrating how to create topsy-turvy planters - one containing a selection of herbs and another full of colourful spring flowers.

As you can see from the photograph accompanying this article, the pots are really very effective and can be either free-standing for the patio or integrated into the borders to give some height.

Very ingenious and quite simple to do now that we have been shown; we were all fully inspired to have a go ourselves.

John demonstrated how to grow new potatoes in plant pots, which he does every year. Members were then set the club's next horticultural challenge and a weigh-off is to be held to see which member can produce the most yield from their one seed potato, which was issued together with a plant pot.

Depending on what weather conditions we are dealt, the potatoes should be ready to harvest in about eight to 10 weeks time. We will meet and weigh our crop and discover any growing tips from the winner of this challenge.

There were some gorgeous entries in our Flower of the Month Competition which was won by Coral Evans' burgundy Hellebore.

In second place was another Hellebore this time coloured white, green and pink entered by Iris Whitaker. In third place was Ruth Marshall's lovely red Anemone which opened fully as the evening progressed.

■ SPRING SHOW

► Arrangements are well in hand for the organisation of the Village Spring Show and we hope that there will be an abundance of gorgeous blooms to be judged.

Entries are welcome from all village residents, their grandchildren and local school children. What will you bring to ensure that this event continues with another colourful and fragrant year?

The Rules and Entry Schedule are printed on pages 18-19 for your information.

Any single exhibit could win the Best in Show trophy. Between 6 and 7pm, exhibits must be displayed on the tables provided for each Class ready for judging at 7.05pm. Adult exhibitors are asked to pay 20p per entry to help defray the cost of running the Show. It is totally free for children to enter and they will all get a certificate and some sweets.

We hope that the Spring Show display in the Village Hall will again be as pretty as a picture. So why not pop along for the public viewing at 7.45, buy a cuppa for 50p (with free refills!), meet up with other residents and stay for the presentation of prizes and trophies.

There will be a raffle available if you are feeling lucky and a warm welcome is extended to you all.

■ THIS YEAR'S VILLAGE COMPETITIONS

► 1) Tallest Sunflower Grown in the Village or by a Gardening Club Member: Members were issued with seeds for this year's Tallest Sunflower competition. We would like to open this up to all village residents (children and adults).

If you are interested then do please get in touch using the telephone numbers at the beginning of this article - we do have some seeds left and these will be issued on a first come, first served basis.

However, you can opt to grow your own variety and then let us know when you consider it has reached its full potential - 319 centimetres is last year's height to beat.

Seeds need to be planted, either outdoors or indoors, from any time now until the end of May. All participating sunflowers will be measured and photographed and the winning sunflower will be announced at the Autumn Village Show on Monday, 9 September.

► 2. Best Hanging Basket 2019: This year Gardening Club members will run the village competition for the Best Hanging Basket and we thank Scothern Nurseries for agreeing to sponsor this event.

Initial judging will commence in early July to select the best six baskets to go forward into the finals which will take place towards the end of the month. Our judges will be looking for:

- use of colour;
- plant health;
- structure of the planting;
- visual impact.

All hanging baskets visible from the public footpath will be judged.

■ HISTORY TALK

► We were entertained at our March meeting by Chris Hewis, who gave an illustrated talk about Wedding Customs and Nursery Rhymes. Chris is Chair of Saxilby History Group.

He told us that some wedding customs date back to Roman times. In Pagan ceremonies, the bride's and groom's hands are tied together and this gives us the saying 'to tie the knot'.

'Wedding' is a Saxon word meaning a transaction. The bride was often exchanged for goods, which became a dowry. An engagement ring was a plain gold band and the first one set with a diamond was recorded in 1477 when Emperor Maximilian married Mary of Burgundy.

Wedding dresses were blue, the colour which was a symbol of purity. The first white wedding dress was worn in 1499 by Anne of Brittany when she married the king of France. This dress can be seen in the Louvre.

When the bride lifted her veil during the ceremony, this was often the first time the groom had seen her, which could cause problems! Horseshoes were given to brides as a fertility symbol.

The first recorded wedding cake was for the wedding of Charles II and was inspired by the tiered spire of St Bride's church in London.

Nursery rhymes were often inspired by sad or tragic events and many were changed or added to by the Victorians to make them less gruesome. Satire developed in the late 18th century. Nursery rhymes often described current political events: 'Pop goes the weasel' was about gambling leading to an overcoat being pawned.

'Ring a ring of roses' related to death from Bubonic plague. 'Jack and Jill' described the execution of Louis XVI, below, and Marie Antoinette. Little Miss Muffet's father was Sir Thomas Muffet, an eminent expert on insects, so that is how she came so close to a spider.

'Mary Mary' described particularly gruesome punishments meted out to Protestants during the five-year reign of Queen

Mary, who tried to reinstate the Catholic church after her father had fallen out with the Pope.

There was a good turnout for this meeting and membership is up this year.

■ NEXT MEETING

► The next two meetings are:
Thursday 18 April at 7.30pm: Members' evening-a light hearted version of 'Call My Bluff'.

Thursday 16 May at 7.30pm: Sue Walker - Lincs and Notts Air ambulance.

New members and guests are always welcome. We have a varied programme and all residents are welcome to attend. We meet in the Bramham Lounge.

There is a book stall and we collect used stamps and small coins. The full 2019 programme is on the Parish Council website.

■ GROWING THROUGH ADVERSITY

► As I write this, we have just entered the season of Lent. During Lent we are looking together at a book called: 'The Resilient Disciple'. It's a book of reflections that begin on Ash Wednesday when we have in front of us the image of 'wilderness' - as Jesus enters the wilderness for 40 days and nights, and it takes us on to Easter Sunday with the glorious celebration of the resurrection. In between, a lot happens, much of it has to do with adversity.

The physical wilderness provides an image of some of the seasons in life in which we experience adversity. We may not experience a physical wilderness, but we will find ourselves in times of adversity in life that we might describe as a 'desert experience'. These come in many forms: illness, bereavement, loss of employment, loss of status, health difficulties, fears that cripple us, life that becomes overwhelming.

These are lived experiences of the desert and have to be lived through. Somehow, we need to learn through these times and build a resilience that helps us through life and that helps us to be more fruitful, more compassionate, we do that by developing an ability to be constant. Last night I ended my day watching a programme called 'Our School By the Tower'. Gareth Malone of 'The Choir' went into Kensington Aldridge Academy, by Grenfell Tower. The school lost five students in the fire.

The programme began with one of the students saying: "I appreciate waking up and saying good morning to my mum so much more." Some were still struggling with the events of that horrendous fire. Others had begun to move on. I was watching young people who had been forced into facing loss and tragedy, beginning to come through - literally a phoenix rising from the ashes - young people being determined to not allow this tragedy to define them.

For me, faith in Christ gives me a pool of resilience, because he is my strong rock and tower, a firm foundation. As we head into the wilderness in Lent and in life, we remember that at the end of it for Christians, is the glory of the resurrection, a brighter day. In a desert experience we need to keep before us that one day, this season of life will end, we will come through it and we will have grown as a people.

A PENSIONER REMINISCES:

I was 13 and a half years old when I got my first bike, up until then I had to make do with my roller skates. They were worn out by the time the bike came on the scene.

The first pair of skates I had had steel wheels, and all my mates had exactly the same. The skates were kept on with a strap around the ankle, and at the toe end by a grip which could be tightened by a key.

The skate frequently came off because the welt of the shoe gave way, itself not being well attached to the shoe! It usually happened when I was skating at maximum speed down the street, and I would end up with a bloodied knee, or two.

Or the skate would come apart at the centre where the adjustment was for the foot size, which easily worked loose.

Half-a-dozen of us would pound up and down Oakfield Avenue, in Birstall, trying to whack a tennis ball between two coats for goalposts with the aid of a walking stick. Occasionally a car or a milk float would halt play for a couple of minutes, but these were a rarity. Dr Larsen's surgery was directly at the bottom of the street, and handy for getting a plaster on the knee if he was in.

The steel wheels didn't last long with the punishment of the road, but could be replaced without difficulty. When the steel started to get thin, and the ball bearings fell out, it was time to replace them. Later I got a pair of Jakoskates for Christmas that had rubber wheels, and they had laces that tied on so they didn't come off so easily, a much better idea!

But back to the bike. Actually it wasn't a bike at all, but just a frame. An Ernie Clements. Clements was born in Hadley, Shropshire, but spent the majority of his early years at Old Park, where he later opened a cycle shop. He became a frame builder and managed Falcon Cycles in the 1950s, and up to the 1970s. My dad didn't believe having it 'on the never never', so I had to earn the money first before I could have it.

At 13 I got a paper round and an old bike in the garage served me quite well as a stop gap. The frame cost me £13 and took about six months to save for it. My morning round paid 7/- a week, and the evening paid 6/- It was a wonderful day when I ordered the frame from a bike shop in Leicester, and arrived in due course all wrapped up in brown paper and string.

I wanted all lightweight parts, but I couldn't afford them straight away, so I fitted the frame with old parts out of the garage, and gradually replaced them as I got the money. The last thing I got was a new saddle (for Christmas), but my parents didn't share my dream.

They bought me a Terry's heavy-weight saddle built for comfort, but not for speed, so I was not best pleased. Eventually I had the racing bike I wanted, but it took me a couple of years to get it!

I went all over on my bike, and it was my pride and joy. I went everywhere on it, covering the whole county of Leicestershire, and especially Bradgate Park, a favourite place on Saturdays to while away the time. It covers 850 acres, and the river lin runs through the middle of it. We often caught crayfish there, and crested newts. It's a lovely walk from the Cropston end to Newtown Lindford following the river, and back. You pass the ruins of Bradgate House (Lady Jane Greys (Henry II's wife) visited 500 years ago. Old John is also well worth a visit, the memorial to an old estate retainer.

For a great day out, google Bradgate Park. It's free to enter, but car parks at each will soak up your spare cash. There is also a spring of fresh water in the centre, free of course. It's 60 miles from Sudbrooke, don't think about parking at weekends!

SUDBROOKE WILDLIFE - SUCH A WONDERFUL PLACE TO SEE IT ALL

By Ian Russell (01522 754984)

The relatively mild winter has resulted in fewer winter migrant birds such as siskins, redwings and fieldfares being seen in the village over recent months. Already they're on their way back to breeding grounds in Northern Europe and Scandinavia.

In exchange, the summer migrants from Southern Europe and Africa are on their way here. Small warblers like Chiffchaffs (its name is similar to its call), willow warblers and blackcaps are normally the first to arrive, followed by swallows, then swifts and flycatchers. These all supplement our resident populations of blackbirds, thrushes, blue, great, coal and long tailed tits and many others.

You may well have noticed that many have been singing to attract mates and define territories. Male robins for example will face off to each other, puffing their chests out and sparring on some occasions until one gives way. Green woodpeckers which often feed on lawns looking for ants and other insects have been shouting their characteristic laughing "yaffle" calls. Great spotted woodpeckers (black with white wing patches and pale underneath, male has red patch on nape) which often visit peanut feeders have also been calling and will soon be drumming on resonant branches.

The much smaller nuthatch, the size of a great tit with grey back and cap, black stripe behind the eye and buff underparts has a loud cheery contact whistle. Its presence is often revealed by the loud tapping noises made as it hammers for nuts. Tawny owls have been actively "hooting". Buzzard numbers have increased across the country in recent years and can often be seen circling above the village, taking advantage of the updraughts created by the belts of trees on south westerly winds. In February, there were five circling overhead together and one is often perched on the hedge next to the A158 between Sudbrooke and Greetwell.

Whilst birds are perhaps most noticeable, brimstone yellow, peacock, small tortoiseshell and the similar comma butterflies have already been flying. These will have overwintered in garden sheds and other secluded areas, ready to start the next generations for the summer months. In addition, there will be new migrant butterflies, such as more commas, flying up from Southern Europe.

Smooth newts and frogs have arrived in my pond and bats have been out from their winter roosts. Some have overwintered in my bat boxes. It's best to provide two or three boxes facing different directions so they can choose one to suit their temperature / humidity requirements according to conditions.

Space precludes me from adding the many wild flowers which are popping up everywhere but YES - THERE IS SO MUCH TO LOOK FORWARD TO IN SPRING AND SUDBROOKE IS SUCH A WONDERFUL PLACE TO SEE IT ALL.

It is a pity that some public footpaths are currently closed, but there are many others to explore and enjoy. If you're not sure where these are, I have a few copies available of the booklet "Footpath walks around Sudbrooke" produced by the former Parish Council Conservation Committee.

Also, it's not too late to make and erect bird boxes of various designs to suit different species. For a factsheet, please get in touch.

SUDBROOKE WALKING CLUB

WITH MIKE HALLIDAY - 01522 754686

■ MARCH WALK

► We eventually managed the Binbrook circular walk of approximately 7 miles and were rewarded with a perfect day of sunny intervals and dry conditions underfoot.

Our first treat was to enjoy the long distance views from Binbrook Top.

We then made our way through Kirmond le Mire towards Thorpe le Vale where we enjoyed a pleasant refreshment break at the recently restocked lake which is very popular with anglers.

We were fortunate that in the woods beyond the lake the snowdrops were in flower although the aconites had gone over.

The return leg to Binbrook is equally pleasant with great views from Burkinshaws Top to Binbrook village nestling in the valley bottom.

■ APRIL WALK

► To try and encourage some new walkers to join our group, we shall do a local walk from Wragby of approximately six miles taking in Goltho and the local woodlands including the new plantation managed by the Woodland Trust.

There are no climbs on this walk, but it can be muddy in wet weather.

Walkers should meet at the village hall at 9-30am and are advised to take a waterproof coat, wear suitable footwear and bring a drink and a snack.

Everyone is welcome to join us on our monthly walks. We walk on the first Saturday of every month.

READERS' LETTERS

YOUR CORRESPONDENCE

■ GARDEN WASTE ISSUES

Dear Editor,

I'd like to take issue with your piece on garden waste by Councillor Bob Waller. He might think its a good service, but for many of us with trees nearby the service comes to an end at the time of greatest need.

When the leaves start to come down the service stops, necessitating numerous trips to the tip. The 'half' service is not value for money at all.

Danny Walsh

■ WOODS ROUTE STILL BLOCKED

Is that right, the main path through the woods is going to be closed until October? That will mean the route will have been closed for around 14 months if it does indeed stay closed until the proposed date.

Not only are the developers destroying a lovely part of our village with over-sized and over-priced houses, they are now - in a roundabout way - denying us the pleasure of a stroll through what is left of the woods.

By the time we do eventually regain access down that path, will it be worth it, with more trees unceremoniously hacked down and urban, domestic carbunkles slapped in their place?

It's enough to make a former councillor of the village turn in his grave. He would be horrified at the unseemly destruction.

John Buxton

PUBLIC MATTERS

WITH DISTRICT COUNCILLOR BOB WALLER

FINANCIAL MATTERS

It is the time of year for budgets and spending reviews and WLDC have announced their figures for this coming financial year.

The council tax increases this year has been kept to a minimum and will be 2.99% - under the threshold for a referendum. On a band D property, the increase will be from £207.27 to £213.47.

This equates to 12p per week. LCC increase is 4.95% and the police increase is 11.0%, average increase being 5.47% this includes any Parish precept change.

The Capital investment plan at WLDC for the next 5 years totals £37m has been agreed and highlights include:

£2.2m for housing infrastructure
£ 1m on roadway improvements (separate to LCC)

- £1.1m on Saxilby industrial units
  - £6.3 on building the districts first crematorium
  - £1.5m on the Food Enterprise Zone at Hemswell Cliff (supporting local food and farming businesses)
  - £5m on the regeneration of Gainsborough through a development partner
  - £7.1m on the leisure facilities across the district, including a new dry facility in Market Rasen and outreach provision.
- Having spoken to a lot of residents, some of the new local issues that I will campaigning for, includes the provision of passing spaces on Heath Road in Scothern and the feasibility of a free bulk waste collection in the future.

I believe both are priority areas the need addressing and hopefully with the help of our County Councillor we will get some action.

SOCIETY

LATEST NEWS

In February, Bernard Bartram (a Sudbrooke parishioner and ex-railwayman) placed an article in the magazine about the possibility of creating a small model railway club in the village. He asked residents to contact him with expressions of interest.

Since the article appeared, the club now has five members with the possibility of several more joining in the near future. We have made contact with the Lincoln District Model Railway Club who have been in existence for 38 years and use Aisthorpe Village Hall as their working base and meeting place. The idea is that rather than create our own club in Sudbrooke, we look at the possibility of joining forces with a well-established club who have their own premises, members and layout.

Following a couple of visits to their club and several discussions it has now been decided that this is probably the preferred option for Sudbrooke members. Besides joining a well-established club, it has the additional benefits of accessing their experience and expertise.

Bernard intends to keep anyone who might be interested in the activities of the Sudbrooke Model Railway Club updated with occasional articles in Sudbrooke News. In the meantime, anyone who might be interested in joining is invited to contact Bernard on 07967 756137.

WITH ANNA FANE – FOUNDER OF THE PATCHWORK COMMUNITY

A year and a half ago, I lost my dad after a cruel 14-year journey with Alzheimers. Dad always responded to music and song – he introduced me to the joys of Rogers and Hammerstein and even when words eluded him at the end, he would whistle along to songs around him! Music was the thing that kept us communicating and I'm forever grateful for that.

I myself, have sung for years, in bands, church, in school with my choir, into my teenage hairbrush! I have always felt strangely overwhelmed emotionally at the sound we can make when we sing together. We are created as humans with an inbuilt need to connect. Singing aligns our voices with others, when we sing together, we are not alone.

Last year, the film The Greatest Showman made a huge impact around the globe, it impacted me. In the aftermath of losing a beloved parent after so long, I realised that I had held much inside and that it was now time to 'Come Alive' – my favourite song from the film. I found myself wondering how can I help others 'Come Alive' – to do things that bring colour and joy into their lives? And so the vision of 'The Patchwork Community' was birthed and in July last year I left teaching to pursue developing an organisation that would facilitate people to connect to do something that was fun and made them feel great and gave them a chance to do something brave and new!

In September 2018, I began the 'Patchwork Community Sings' – a weekly singing community. We meet Tuesday evenings in Nettleham Community Hub to sing, laugh, connect and eat cake together! It is called 'Patchwork' because that is who we are; each uniquely shaped but joined together to create something special and beautiful – we are a 'Community'.

At 'The Patchwork Community' you will find a safe place where you will be supported and where you will meet new friends. We do not use sheet music and we sing to backing tracks. Our ethos is just come as you are. You do not need to feel you have to have a high degree of ability. In fact if someone has told you you can't sing, then come; you have a voice and you have a right to sing!

We also run a dance class for adults on a Monday evening at the junior school. The same ethos, come as you are and dance!

If anyone would like to learn more or want to chat to me about my heart and vision for The Patchwork Community then e mail me on anna@thepatchworkcommunity.co.uk or via the website www.thepatchworkcommunity.co.uk.

Come one, Come all, Come in, come on,
